A welcome note from your instructor:
Welcome traveler! Are you ready to take pictures of that travel course you're about to embark on? If not, then this is the class for you - During this one-day crash course I will help you become more comfortable using your equipment and teach you a few tricks to help you make better images during your travels.

Tips for success:
Bring in with you 5-10 small prints of the photography you're currently making or are interested in working on. This will help set the tone and direction for the class. If you are planning to use a digital camera, you will need a USB flash drive and card reader. If you are using a phone, I recommend having a battery backup to prevent your battery from dying while we work. Make sure all batteries have a full charge before class.

Supply List: (Bring your own)
Note: All supplies are suggestions. Mention of a brand or retailer should not be considered UW-Madison endorsements. Students may make substitutions.

Required Materials:
- Any modern Digital Camera or Smart Phone Notebook and utensil

Optional (Suggested) Items:
- USB Flash Drive (USB3.0 is suggested)
- Card reader matched to the flash memory of your camera (if applicable)
- Rechargeable battery backup for mobile devices
