

A woman with dark hair, wearing a red cardigan over a black top, stands in a classroom. She is smiling and pointing towards the camera while holding a tablet. In the foreground, the back of a person's head and one hand raised in the air are visible, suggesting an interactive session. A whiteboard with some papers is in the background.

PROFESSIONAL TRAINER'S CERTIFICATE

39 HOURS OF INSTRUCTION

June 2-4 and June 16-18, 2020

An interactive and engaging course that takes your training to the next level

Grainger Hall
975 University Ave, Madison, WI

Continuing Studies
UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

PROFESSIONAL TRAINER'S CERTIFICATE | 39 HOURS OF INSTRUCTION

Gain the skills you need to lead engaging face-to-face training, facilitate interactive workshops, and deliver top-notch professional development initiatives in any organization. You'll experience six full days of participatory learning, supplemented with readings, assignments, and a final presentation. Designed for people who work – or aspire to work – in training, human resource development, adult learning, and/or continuing education.

Topics include:

- Adult learning principles
- Needs assessment and analysis
- Curriculum design, development, and delivery
- Facilitation and teaching techniques

Instructors:

Deb Laurel, master teacher, consultant in workplace learning, and president of Laurel and Associates, Ltd.

Shelley Quandt, master instructional designer, facilitator, and program director at UW–Madison Division of Continuing Studies

$1,795; gov't/nonprofit $1,295. Lunch included.

39 noncredit hours of instruction

Learn more and register:

continuingstudies.wisc.edu/classes/professional-trainers-certificate

Continuing Studies
UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

21 N. Park St., 7th floor
Madison, WI 53715-1218

NONPROFIT ORG
US POSTAGE PAID
MADISON WI
PERMIT NO 658